

Continuing the Mapp Bros Tradition

Mapp Bros, established in the 1920s had a reputation for outstanding quality and longevity of its products. Wittmont, established in 2000, has continued Mapp Bros' reputation for excellence and added it's own demands of technological innovation and environmental design.

In this day and age, the customer demands quality workmanship and a long-lasting product that won't cost the earth. At Wittmont, we understand that intelligently-designed joinery can make a real difference to household energy consumption.

Combined with sound environmental practices in our own factory, the Wittmont team carries on the tradition of fine timber joinery started by Mapp Bros far into the future with Wittmont.
